DEFINITIONS FOR HOUSING FORM

Dwelling, single family: a building designed for use exclusively as a principal dwelling unit and includes a secondary suite and other accessory uses.

Secondary suite: a dwelling unit accessory to a principal dwelling, either located within or abutting to the principal building.

Detached secondary suite (DSS, or Coach House): a self-contained, detached dwelling unit accessory to a single family dwelling, or a duplex dwelling where permitted.

Dwelling, duplex: a building designed, constructed and occupied or intended to be occupied as two separate dwelling units structurally adjoined side-by-side or one above the other and includes secondary suites and other accessory uses.

Dwelling, ground-oriented: two or more principal dwellings and/or principal residential buildings – such as triplexes, multiplexes, rowhouses, and townhouses, each with access to the street, lane or site without the use of common, enclosed stairwells or corridors – that may be on a single lot or subdivided into separate lots.

Building, apartment: a building, except as otherwise defined herein, containing three or more dwelling units in separate, multiple storeys, but does not include: (a) townhouses; or (b) dwellings over commercial premises.

Market rental units are units rented at market rate (i.e., without any legal restrictions binding the rental unit to a certain level of rent).

Non-market rental units are units with a legal obligation (i.e., housing agreement, zoning) to be rented at a non-market rate.

Below-market rental units are units rented at or below 30% of the local Housing Income Limits (HIL) per unit size (please refer to most recent BC Housing HIL levels published for Vancouver).

Below-market rental units with on-site supports are units rented at the Income Assistance Shelter rate providing permanent housing and on-site supports for people to transition out of homelessness.

Co-op housing: also known as housing co-operative, means housing provided to members of an organization incorporated under the Cooperative Association Act, and includes non-profit housing co-operatives and equity co-operatives.
